Friendly and capable sound recordist with extensive experience across a wide range of high profile broadcast formats shot all over the world, from large scale multi camera shoots to sensitive single camera documentaries. I have particular expertise in designing and operating innovative radio mic and timecode solutions for technically complex shoots. I own a comprehensive sound kit that can cover most eventualities on location. If in the event additional kit is required I have great relationships with a number of London rental houses and can source almost anything sound related at short notice. I have bases in London and the South West.
